

MM93-48

No. of Copies rec'd
1st ABCDE 3-4-93
O

Dear FCC:

Firstly, let's give the networks a clear definition of what "educational" means for children's programming.

I would offer this as it ~~model~~ -

"Whatever is true, RECEIVED

Whatever is noble,

Whatever is right,

Whatever is pure,

Whatever is lovely,

Whatever is admirable.

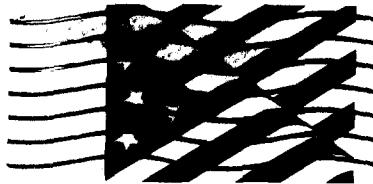

If anything is excellent or praiseworthy

put it on television - Our children deserve the best. Thank you. Helen Eastley

DOCK OFFICE COPY ORIGINAL ROOM

MAR 1 1968

Easley
2740 Tulane A
Long Beach, CA 90803
RECEIVED
MAY 11 1993

USA 19

MAR 29 1993
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
FCC MAIL ROOM
FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

RECD MAR 29 1993
WASHINGON, D.C.
20554

© USPS 1991

MM 93-48

- 1 -

RECEIVED

RECEIVED

Mar 9 3:34 PM '93 MAR 9 1993

MAR 9 1993

FCC-MAIL ROOM

Office of the Secretary
FCC
Washington, D.C. 20554

Lisa M. Osborne
3320 Dublin Manor Rd
Street, Md 21154

March 4, 1993

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

Dear Sirs:

I am writing to you to address the problem of the standards of t.v. for children. I strongly believe that these standards must be changed and enforced.

I have two young boys who see much violence on cartoons as well as all the police shows. I monitor their t.v. watching and discuss how we could handle problems differently. They are surprisingly known to the fact that guns kill, fighting hurts, etc. but seem to think it would be a good way to settle things and quickly, too.

When I was a child my parents were not there to monitor t.v. or discuss what I saw. Much of what I was as a teenager was mimicked from t.v. I also learned a lot from t.v. about places of travel, facts from game shows, how to dress, better ways of life than what I had.

No. of Copies rec'd
A B C D E

P

As adults we have much control over what we expose our children to. Why can't we choose what is right? The television is a wonderful thing for education. We can reach children in the worst of family situations, show them a better way. We must start to make this world a better place. I pray that this letter will make a difference for my children and everyone else's.

Thank you,
Lisa M. Osborne